General Type Standard

The Tonkinese should be of medium build and foreign type. The body should be firm and muscular with the head, body, legs, feet and tail in proportion to give a well-balanced appearance. The cat should be even-tempered and of good weight for its size. There are three Tonkinese coat-pattern varieties - Burmese Colour Restriction (BCR), Tonkinese Colour Restriction (TCR) & Colourpointed Pattern (CPP) ; which are described below under 'Coat-Patterns'.

Head	The top should be gently rounded with good width between the ears, a moderately proportioned wedge with a muzzle that is neither pointed nor square and a definite, but not exaggerated, whisker pinch. In profile there should be a slight nose break leading down to a level bite and chin of medium depth.
Ears	Medium size, slightly taller than wide, pricked forward, with broad base and oval tips. Base equally balanced between side and top of head, with outer line continuing line of wedge.
Eyes	Large and expressive, more almond shaped than round and set well apart. The top line of the eye is slanted down towards the nose; the lower line of the eye is rounded.
	1. BCR – Any shade from deep yellow to bluish-green.
	2. TCR - Any shade of greenish-blue or bluish-green. Incomplete development of eye colour may be found in kittens, which may show shades of yellowish green.
	3. CPP – Any shade of clear blue.
Body	Medium to long, well balanced, firm, and muscular. Chest slightly rounded, flanks level, back rising gently from shoulders to rump.
Legs & Feet	Legs slender and well muscled, the hind legs slightly longer than the front. Feet neat and oval.
Tail	Tapering tail of medium length, neither thick nor whippy.
Coat	Close lying and short. Fine, soft, silky with a lustrous sheen.
Coat-Patterns	1. BURMESE COLOUR RESTRICTION (BCR): the colour is expressed as an even tone over the head, ears, legs, feet, tail and body. The colour will lighten gradually towards the underparts. There may be a very slight difference between the points and body colour, which is more noticeable in the Chocolate colour.

	2. TONKINESE COLOUR RESTRICTION (TCR): the colour is expressed as a subtle merging of toning colour from the darker ears, mask, legs, feet and tail to the lighter body colour. It is quite different from a Burmese Colour Restriction or Colourpointed pattern. It is important that the difference between the points and body colour is not sharply defined, with the exception of the Chocolate where there is a notable contrast between the points and the upper body. The legs and feet may be paler than the other points but should match in tone. The body colour will lighten gradually towards the underparts.
	3. COLOURPOINTED PATTERN (CPP): the body colour is a shade relative to the points (as described under the individual colours), with clearly defined contrast between the body colour and the colour on the ears, mask, legs, feet and tail. In a mature cat any colour shading or pattern on the body should tone with the points.
Colour	The depth of colour is expressed according to the coat-pattern. The body should be free of tabby markings in non-agouti adults; coat pattern in kittens may develop slowly and may show some slight tabby markings, which should not be faulted. The colour will pale towards the roots of the hair.
Note 1.	LEATHERS = nose leather, eye rims, lips & paw pads.
Note 2.	CARAMEL & APRICOT COLOURS - The effect of the dilute modifier gene is to reduce dilution of colour, this results in brown tones in the fur and leathers of the blue, lilac, fawn and cream colours. The caramel colour varies because it may be blue, lilac or fawn based. In kittens and juveniles the colour may be of a lighter fawn tone. The gene has the same effect on cream, producing apricot. In both caramel and apricot the coat may or may not show a metallic sheen.
WITHHOLD ALL AWARDS For:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Coat pattern or colour that does not conform to the breed standard 2. Miniaturisation. 3. White patches anywhere.
WITHHOLD CERTIFICATES, or FIRST PRIZES In KITTEN Breed Classes For:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Tabby or ghost tabby markings in non-agouti adults. 2. Incorrect eye colour for coat-pattern. 3. Round eyes. 4. Long narrow wedge or very short wedge. 5. Straight profile, notable bump on the nose or pronounced nose break. 6. Any defect as listed in the preface to the SOP booklet.
NON-AGOUTI COLOURS	The body should be free of tabby markings. The legs and feet may be a lighter shade of the other points' colour but the points and body colour should match in tone. In all non-agouti colours the leather of the paw pads may be lighter than the nose leather and may have a rosy undertone. In Reds, Creams and Apricots freckles may appear on the leathers and ears and should not be penalised. Note: Ghost tabby markings may be found on the points of Red, Cream and Apricot adults and should not detract from an otherwise good cat; on the body, ghost tabby marking is a fault.

	CPP: Breed (TOS k 33) Cool toned off-white body colour. Clearly defined matching-toned points of fawnish-grey OR brownish-grey broken with varying shades of apricot. Leathers - brownish-blue or brownish-pink and/or pink.
AGOUTI – TABBY COLOURS	The tabby pattern is formed by markings on a background of agouti hairs. The pattern may be ticked, mackerel, spotted, classic or a combination of these. The colour of the markings on the points and body should match in tone. Tabbies in the dilute colours will be lighter in tone than the equivalent non-agouti colour. The markings can take longer to develop in Reds, Creams and Apricots. Freckles may appear on the leathers and ears of Reds, Creams or Apricots and should not be penalised. The points do not merge with the body colour as they do in non-agouti patterns. The points' markings should show good contrast with the ground colour, but may be less contrasting in the dilute colours (blue, lilac, fawn, caramel, cream and apricot) and may be paler on the legs than on the other points.
Head Markings	There should be a clearly defined 'M' on the forehead, 'spectacle' markings around the eyes, a ribbon running from the outer edge of the eye and spotted whisker pads. Ears are solid colour but show clear 'thumb marks', which may be less apparent in dilute colours, and mottled in tortie tabbies. The nose/leather may be solid in colour or pinkish outlined with colour that matches the paw pads.
Leg Markings	Clearly defined broken stripes. Solid markings on the back of the hind legs. The leg markings may be paler than the other points.
Tail Markings	Clearly defined broken rings.
Body Markings	The markings will depend upon the nature of the tabby pattern. The markings will lighten down the flanks to the underparts, which will be a paler shade of the ground colour and may show spots. There may be a band of more solid colour over the top of the head, along the back and into the base of the tail that is more noticeable with maturity. There should be one or more broken, or unbroken, necklets on the neck/upper chest.
